WEAVERS LODGE

Florida Street, Castle Cary

The home is nestled on the edge of rolling countryside, conveniently situated in a quiet, no-through road yet only a minute walk to the bustling High Street with all its local amenities. Weavers Lodge dates back to the 18th Century and sits in the heart of Castle Cary, Somerset.

“ As a service, we wish to support individuals with learning disabilities and complex needs, that may also include a dual mental health diagnosis. The service will enable their successful transition through person centred and needs led assessment, to understand the individuals we support, to best meet their needs.

“Everyone has a right to feel safe, encouraged and valued and we understand that individuals with complex support needs shouldn't be isolated because of them

ABOUT THE SERVICE

Weavers Lodge is a specialist service based in Somerset, supporting adults with learning disabilities and complex needs. The home delivers 8 large beautiful bedrooms with a garden or countryside view, all with ensuite facilities and with access to a range of communal spaces.

The interior designers have mindfully designed the furniture and fixtures for challenging environments, which includes a variety of safe, robust, and anti-ligature features. This autism friendly design and specification maintains the homely feel important in providing the individuals we support with a sense of belonging.

Alongside 6 large bedrooms, Weavers Lodge has 2 self-contained studios, designed for those individuals who may find living in a group setting more of a challenge.

Both studios have a securable kitchenette, so we can develop the life skills an individual will need to transition successfully, with lovely garden views and well-equipped specialist furniture.

All individuals prior to accessing our service have a comprehensive needs led assessment to confirm our service can meet their support requirements.

There is also the potential, depending on the individuals needs and current circumstances, to transition to another less intensive service within our Group.

POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR SUPPORT

Autonomy Life believes that good staff comes through providing good training and support

Weavers Lodge is committed to delivering high quality Positive Behaviour Support (PBS) when supporting people who display behaviours that can be seen as challenging. With a focus on improving quality of life, PBS will be delivered in line with best practice and overseen by Autonomy’s in-house Behaviour Specialist.

Autonomy Care Group uses a system-wide tiered approach to PBS, which means that individuals receive the right level of behavioural input at the right times. Function based PBS plans will be co-produced with individuals, staff teams and all relevant stakeholders, and will form a holistic understanding of the person and their needs. PBS can then focus on improving quality of life and building skills including coping skills, functionally equivalent skills and other life skills to build independence.

Our staff team comprises of a range of diverse and highly skilled individuals who bring experience, expertise and passion to their roles. Extensive specialist training and agreed shared values has fostered a very skilled group of people who form the core of the service.

We aim to work in partnership with the individual, their families, and key professionals so the person being supported resides at the centre and in control of their own lives.

OUR TRAINING

Protecting Rights In a Caring Environment (P.R.I.C.E) is a training and support provider that has enabled us to train our own in-house instructors, in line with our core value to invest into our staff team's ongoing professional development.

This training provides positive and effective support to individuals in a person-centred way and within the human rights framework.

This model recognises that individuals may express behaviours as part of their communication profile and provides insight into the functions of those behaviours and strategies of support that enables and improves their quality of life.

P.R.I.C.E. is accredited with the British Institute of Learning Disabilities (BILD) and Restraint Reduction Network (RRN).

The feedback for this training has been 'fantastic', 'people in our services will benefit from this training', 'provided me with lots of theory and knowledge' and 'will positively impact the way we work'.

For further information: www.pricetraining.co.uk

Weavers Lodge understands the impact trauma has on individuals, and we deliver trauma informed care training to our staff team.

The individuals we support will receive additional support from our in-house Trauma Action Practitioners, who are accredited by the Trauma Action Group. Working in a Trauma Informed way is embedded in practice and care planning for the individual where appropriate.
